Cockrill May Run for Governor

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Rep. Sterling R. Cockrill Jr. of Little Rock said Monday that he has been asked by a number of persons to consider running for governor and that he is considering it.

Cockrill, speaker of the Arkansas House, said he was not running at this time.

"At this stage of the game, I am not convinced that Gov. (Winthrop) Rockefeller needs to have an opponent in his bid for re-election," Cockrill said.

"I personally feel that any governor should have two terms in which to accomplish his program," he said.

Cockrill said he had no timetable on when he might seek the state's highest office and if he decided to run, it may be 1970 rather than next year.

He said he may have to make a decision earlier if it turns out that Rockefeller does not make a very good record.

Cockrill, 41, said persons representing different points of view in the Democratic Party had approached him on the subject.

ready to meet with them." Thieu and Ky spoke at an airport news conference before Lodge and Westmoreland returned.

Ky said details of the peace feeler could not be disclosed since Hanoi had not yet responded. The proposal was relayed to Hanoi before the Guam conference "through channels open to us," he said.

By FRANK CORMIER
GUAM (AP) — President Johnson said today his two days of Vietnam talks on the cloud-shrouded Pacific island of Guam were instructive and constructive but produced no momentous decisions.

Holding a surprise news conference before he took off for Honolulu and Washington, Johnson said: "We took no decisions of a military nature."

South Vietnam's Premier Nguyen Cao Ky and chief of state Nguyen Van Thieu flew back to Saigon, and as soon as they arrived Thieu announced that before the Guam conference his government had asked North Vietnam to join it in a peace meeting. But he said no answer had been received from Hanoi.

"If Hanoi is ready to discuss peace with us, we are ready to meet with them," Thieu told a news conference at the Saigon airport.

White House Press Secretary George Christian said he had no comment to make on Thieu's disclosure.

Johnson spoke to newsmen in a hilltop Navy officers club where, just seven hours earlier, Premier Ky had made an emotional appeal for united American support that concluded:

"There is no reason that you or other people should impose on us to surrender or accept domination from the Communists. We are willing to fight."

Johnson obviously was disturbed by the attention given to some of Ky's earlier statements which in effect called for sharp escalation in the war and rejected a place at any peace talks for the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front.

Thai Kills 14 Communists

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Premier Thanom Kittikachorn said today that Thai security forces killed 14 Communist terrorists and captured 23 others in six clashes in northeast Thailand during the past week.

Thanom told his weekly news conference that one government soldier was killed and two were wounded.

Petitions to Revoke Club Charters

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Petitions to revoke the charters of three private clubs in Hot Springs were filed in Pulaski Circuit Court Monday by Atty. Gen. Joe Purcell.

Purcell filed the petitions against the Anchor Club, Coy's Club and the Turf Business and Professional Men's Club.

Gambling devices were seized from each of the clubs in recent gambling raids by the State Police.

The attorney general also received a court order to impound the devices as evidence in the hearings and asked that the court order the devices destroyed following the hearing.

Purcell said he conferred with State Police Director Herman E. Lindsey before taking high of 85 degrees in Los Angeles on Feb. 11. A reading of 88 on March 1 set another record.

Today Is First Day of Spring

By HAL COOPER
NEW YORK (AP) — Hock deep in slush? Stung by sleet? Ears frosted? Snowed in? Nevertheless, rejoice. Today is the first day of spring.

Once again, cruel winter has ended. Calendars say so. The swallows of Capistrano say so and so say the buzzards of Hinckley, Ohio.

Against whatever odds, we have won through to one more vernal equinox — a time of balmy showers and busted levees, young love and trips to Reno, sprouting crops and skies full of windblown topsail (or so they say in Texas).

As winters go, the one which just reluctantly went was notably capricious.

On Jan. 26-27, Chicago was blanketed with enough snow to last it for years — 26 inches, with 15-foot drifts. Spring found the stuff still piled shoulder high in parts of the city.

In Oregon, there was barely a trace of snow. Home owners mowed their lawns in mid-February as grass and other growing things made an early start in persistently mild weather.

A February blizzard brought New York surface transportation to a standstill. Swirling snow and bitter cold struck again on March 17, and many St. Patrick's Day marchers showed up in green earmuffs.

California had its second warmest February in Weather Bureau history, with a record high of 85 degrees in Los Angeles on Feb. 11. A reading of 88 on March 1 set another record.

In Tennessee, there was seven inches of snow on Nov. 2, the

CABLE MUST BE KEPT IN GOOD REPAIR

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Visitors to Cape Kennedy frequently see an old freighter berthed at Port Canaveral.

The ship does not carry ordinary cargo. Her holds contain huge coils of cable and tools to repair or replace sections of a 1,600-mile communications lifeline.

Stretched between the cape and Antigua, West Indies, the cable lies on the ocean floor. It links several downrange stations with the cape's nerve center.

Hope for Any Peace Talk Is Fading

WASHINGTON (AP) — The doves among Senate Democrats have about given up hope that President Johnson can initiate Vietnam peace talks before they have to face the voters in 1968.

A cross section check indicates that most of them expect decisions growing out of the just-concluded Guam conference that will intensify military efforts. This, in their opinion, will make it more difficult to get any negotiations started.

Their hopes that the administration's pacification program in South Vietnam might produce a slowdown in the fighting were jolted by a first hand report from Prof. George Kahin, head of Cornell University's Southeast Asia program.

Kahin, coauthor of a book on Vietnam who just returned from Saigon, was quoted as telling 18 Democrats and three Republicans at a closed luncheon Monday that the program thus far has been "an utter failure" because it provides for no land reform.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, who supports Johnson's general course in Southeast Asia, said that pacification will be "no easy chore" and may take years.

Kahin was depicted as assailing the proposed new constitution for South Vietnam.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., who attended the session, called Kahin's report "very discouraging" to those who hope that the election of a new civilian government might give South Vietnam the kind of stability that could lead to peace negotiations.

Explosion Rocks Oil Tanker

LAND'S END, England (AP) — A violent explosion rocked the engine room of the stranded supertanker Torrey Canyon today and halted salvage operations.

A Royal Navy spokesman said one man—believed to be the salvage master of the Dutch tug Utrecht—was badly burned in the blast and died a short time later.

Reports that the tanker, which still has about 80,000 tons of oil aboard, was on fire mobilized a fleet of rescue ships and British navy helicopters. They took off the ship's captain, three crewmen and two salvage officials.

The huge blast blew the roof and the floor of the engine room to bits. Helicopter pilots who said they were able to see through the keel said there was no fire but the ship had suffered severe damage.

Surrounded by its own leaking oil, which now covers 100 square miles of ocean off the southwest tip of England, the 61,263-ton tanker lay crippled and deserted. She is owned by a subsidiary of the Union Oil Co. of California.

The ship's tanks were releasing oil in such quantities that all of southern England's beaches were in danger of being ruined for the summer.

Some School Districts in Trouble

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some school districts in every state face financial crises because the federal government has failed to match its promises of aid for needy children.

"They had their hopes built up and now the rug has been yanked out from under them," one irate congressman said of school officials who designed budgets around federal promises of extra support.

An Associated Press survey showed some districts are getting just half the money they expected, while others are getting more than they counted on.

In every state, the survey showed, there are some districts without the money to pay bills contracted with the expectation they would be covered by federal aid.

The problem apparently is going to get worse.

Estimates for the year beginning July 1 indicate New York City can expect a cut from $71 million to $66 million in the amount of federal money earmarked for helping districts upgrade education for slum children.

Princess Ends Bahamas Stay

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS LONDON (AP) — Princess Margaret and Lord Snowdon returned today from a 10-day holiday in the Bahamas that set at rest rumors of a rift in their marriage.

The royal couple traveled on a regular British Overseas Airways Corp. flight from Nassau by way of New York. Aboard were 14 other first-class and 60 economy-class passengers.

They posed for photographers but had nothing to say to newsmen at London Airport.

The princess and her husband met for a reunion in the Bahamas after he had been away for six weeks on a photographic assignment for a British newspaper. While in New York he denied rumors that their seven-year marriage was running into difficulties.

Retracts Story of Virgin Mary

SANTANDER, Spain (AP) — After a series of meetings with Roman Catholic Church officials, four teen-age farm girls have retracted their story that they talked regularly with the Virgin Mary and the archangel St. Michael.

Conchita Gonzalez, who spoke for the girls, told about 1,000 persons last June 18 she had received an important message from St. Michael. Then she led the crowd into a wooded area and had a 10-minute ecstasy during which, she said later, she saw and talked with the archangel.

PERSONAL MENTION

CLUB NEWS

Since 1953, the U. S. Weather Bureau has adopted four alphabetically arranged sets of girls' names which it uses to identify hurricanes in the Atlantic, Caribbean and Gulf of Mexico. The names on the lists are repeated once they have been completely used, says The World Almanac. The name of any major hurricane that has seriously affected the United States is dropped for 10 years and another name substituted. Since there is a scarcity of girls' names beginning with Q, U, X, Y, and Z, these letters are omitted.

us, Pianist.

Since the Cotillion Junior club was organized, it has grown from a few members to twenty-one active members. On January 11, 1967, the club integrated into its organization a Tot club (8-10 Yr.). The members are: Annie Pearl Briggs, Brenda Williams, Mary Elizabeth Davis, Sharon Carter, Elaine Dunn, Loretta Johnson, Patricia Phillips, and Yvonne Green. Miss Gwendolyn Smith, and Mrs. Marie Straughter are supervisors and Brenda Williams, president.

Is a noisy junk yard a nuisance? Is a noisy radio a nuisance? Is an odoriferous henhouse a nuisance? Consider this definition by the United States Supreme Court: "A nuisance may be merely a right thing in the wrong place—like a pig in the parlor."

In other words, in complaining about a nuisance, it is not enough for you to point out how it looks, sounds, or smells. You must also show that it is not appropriate to the location.

For in the eyes of the law, when you choose your residence you are also choosing your environment. Choose the amenities and the excitement of the city, and you also choose its clutter and its dirt. They are a normal—even an essential—feature of urban living. As one judge put it:

"Without smoke, Pittsburgh would have remained a very pretty village."

Complaints about nuisances may be judged not only in terms of the general community or the particular neighborhood but even in terms of feet and inches. For example:

A home owner was denied an injunction against cooking odors blown from the house next door, when the court ascertained that there was a space almost 30 feet wide between the two buildings. But an apartment dweller was granted relief from the cabbage and onion fumes aimed his way by the people directly across the hall. Of course, to the person annoyed, the mere location of the annoyance is not the whole story. Not every individual has the same

"Threshold" of irritation. A smell or noise that vexes one neighbor may leave another—equally close to the source—totally unconcerned.

But as a practical matter, the law must decide according to average, not individual, tastes and sensibilities. Thus, a court refused to interfere with blasting noises which were irksome only to an especially nervous woman in the neighborhood.

Even if it tried, the law could not please everybody. Inevitably it would run afoul of those people who, in one court's words, "consider all noises offensive except those they make themselves."

Stage Set for Pro Cage Playoffs

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The stage is set tonight for the National Basketball Association playoffs, and the spotlight will be on such stars as Wilt Chamberlain, Bill Russell, Oscar Robertson and Rick Barry.

But watch out for those guys in the wings.

They're the Chicago Bulls, and they would like nothing better than to steal the show hardly anyone thought they would be in.

This looked like the year the Detroit Pistons would make the playoffs for the first time since 1962-63, but the Bulls, in their first NBA season, pulled off a major surprise by beating out the Pistons for the fourth and last playoff spot in the Western Division.

Early in the season, Player-Coach Richie Guerin of the St. Louis Hawks said of Chicago: "They'll be lucky to win 10 games this season."

But they did win 33 en route to a playoff berth, and if they win three more, Guerin and the Hawks will be through for the year.

The Hawks, second in the West, and Bulls meet tonight in St. Louis in the first game of a best-of-5 series.

Other first-round openers have Eastern Division winners Philadelphia at home against third-place Cincinnati, fourth-place New York at Eastern runner-up Boston and Western winner San Francisco at home against third-place Los Angeles.

The Bulls are led by veteran Guy Rodgers, obtained in a trade with San Francisco, who set an NBA assist record of 908 this season. St. Louis' strong point is offensive rebounding.

This chore falls mainly to Zelmo Beatty, Bill Bridges and rookie Lou Hudson. Bridges and Beatty missed the last two regular season games because of injuries, but should be ready.

In the other Western games, San Francisco pits the shooting of Barry, the highest scoring forward in NBA history with 2,775 points this season, and the rebounding of Thurmond against the renowned clutch play of the Lakers' Jerry West and Elgin Baylor. However, West is hobbled by an ankle injury.

Philadelphia and Boston, the latter seeking its ninth straight world championship, figure to have little trouble advancing to a semifinal series against each other.

Philadelphia beat Cincinnati eight times in nine games during the season, and the Celtics have whipped New York 19 straight times dating back to March 17, 1965.

Cincinnati will have to stop Hal Greer's outside shooting, the 76ers' strong rebounding and of course Chamberlain, who has the added incentive of never having played on a world championship team.

Philadelphia's main worry is stopping Robertson and Jerry Lucas.

New York is in real trouble against Boston. Not only are the Knickerbockers without Dick Barnett and Dave Stallworth, sidelined for the season earlier in the year, but they might not have Willis Reed for the opener. He has a strained back.

Without Reed, who leads New York in scoring and rebounding, the Knicks will have to get good outside shooting and above par performances from their remaining players to have any kind of a chance against Russell, Sam Jones, Bailey Howell, John Havlicek and the rest of the Celtics.

Still Some Spring in Lou Burdette

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Spring isn't just in the air. There's still some in Lou Burdette's legs too.

The 40-year-old pitcher, now in his 20th year of professional baseball, made his first exhibition game appearance Monday and beat out a bunt single.

Burdette's right arm appeared to be just as strong as his legs as he worked two innings and allowed only an infield hit in California's 6-2 victory over Cleveland at Palm Springs, Calif.

In other games, rookie Mike Epstein's three-run homer gave Baltimore a 4-2 victory over Cincinnati, San Francisco outslugged the Chicago Cubs 9-6, St. Louis topped Pittsburgh 4-3, Boston nipped Pittsburgh 4-3, the Chicago White Sox beat the New York Mets 7-4, the New York Yankees edged Los Angeles 7-6 and Detroit downed Atlanta 5-4.

The Washington Senators didn't play, but they got some good news — pitcher Camilo Pascual signed, ending a 28-day holdout.

The veteran right-hander, who wanted the reported $46,500 he received last season with Minnesota, came to terms for an estimated $42,500.

Marcelino Lopez worked the first five innings for California, which ended a five-game losing streak. A Jim Fregosi, Rick Reichardt and Jose Cardenal each collected a single and double for the Angels.

Epstein's homer came off Billy McCool in the fourth inning at Tampa, Fla., and tagged McCool, who is hoping to become a starting pitcher, with his third exhibition loss. Frank Robinson tripled and singled for Baltimore.

Willie Mays hit his first exhibition homer and extended his hitting streak through 10 games in San Francisco's victory over the Cubs at Scottsdale, Ariz.

Mike Shannon belted a two-run homer and Orlando Cepeda got two doubles and a single in leading St. Louis past Philadelphia at St. Petersburg, Fla., for the Cardinals' fourth straight victory.

Don Lock homered with one on for Philadelphia.

Tony Horton, fighting George Scott for Boston's first base job, homered, doubled and singled, in the Red Sox' defeat of Pittsburgh at Winter Haven, Fla.

Don Demeter also contributed a two-run double to the Boston attack.

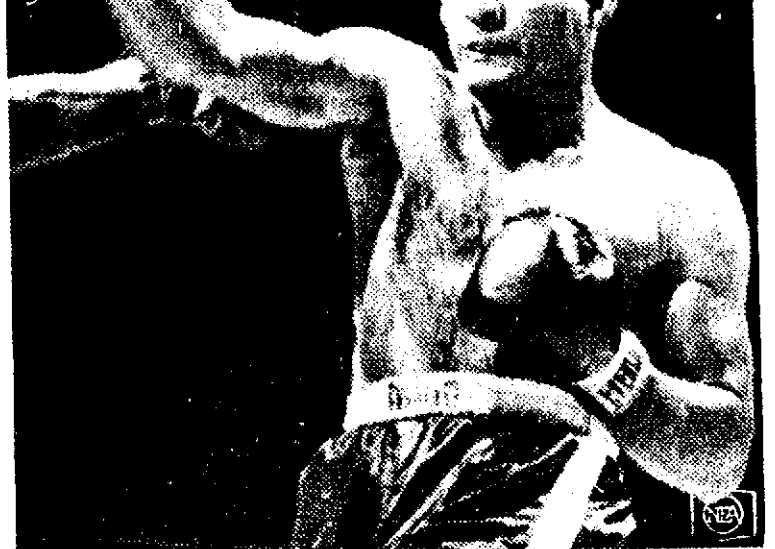

The White Sox got only one hit in the first five innings off Met rookie pitcher Bill Denney but got five unearned runs in winning at Homestead, Fla. Tommie Agee hit an inside-the-park homer for Chicago.

Veteran Whitey Ford pitched the first five innings, allowing one run on six scattered hits and Joe Pepitone collected three hits and two RBIs in the Yankees' triumph at Vero Beach, Fla. Dick Stuart singled twice and blasted a two-run homer for Los Angeles.

Atlanta got home runs from John Hoffman and Mack Jones but committed five errors in losing to Detroit at West Palm Beach, Fla.

The Tigers won it in the ninth. With two out, Cecil Upshaw struck out Mickey Stanley, who reached first when the third strike got past rookie catcher Hoffman.

WHY IT'S FOLLEY TO FIGHT ALI

ZORA FOLLEY: two diesels and eight kids.

Texas Beats Razorback Golfers

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — Texas opened the Southwest Conference golf campaign Monday with a 3-2-2 victory over Arkansas.

A 25-foot uphill putt by Buddy Hamilton on the 18th green gave him a halve in his match with Arkansas' Sammy Brown and eaved the triumph for Texas.

The Longhorns' Mason Adkins, the conference's individual champion last year, shot a two-over-par 74 and defeated Mike McCutcheon 1 up. Rick Massengale of Texas beat Terry Howard 2 and 1. The team of Adkins and Massengale edged McCutcheon-Howard 2 up.

David McCauley of Arkansas turned back Earl Stewart Jr., 3 and 2 and the team of McCauley and Brown won by the same score over Stewart and Hamilton.

With 37 last year, the Mays' total reached 342, second only to the great Bambino.

To the suggestion he might be more relaxed this spring after reaching goals expected of him in the homer department last season, Mays answered "I'm just doing the same things getting ready this spring as I usually do. At least I think I am."

"Pressures last year? Just the one, No. 512."

That was the one which topped the National League record established by the late Mel Ott of the New York Giants.

Willie Mays' record with No. 511 of Jim Owens in Houston's Astrodome on April 24.

After nine trying days during which cameras trained on his every swing and newsmen crowded Candlestick Park's pressbox, Mays drove a pitch by the Dodgers' Claude Osteen out of the premises.

On Aug. 16, he hit No. 534 which tied him with Jimmy Foxx as the greatest right-handed home run hitter of all time. This time the deadlock lasted only a day as he hit No. 535 off the Cardinals' Ray Washburn.

Reaching age 36 on May 6, Mays faces a tremendous task to reach the Ruth mark, yet no one watching him this spring would term it impossible.

He hit safely in the first six exhibition games, was given a vacation the next day and came right back with hits in the next pair, two for extra bases. So it goes with the star who broke in with the Giants in 1951 as the Say Hey Kid and now rates as the club's elder statesman, the captain of the team, with a $125,000 annual salary.

Clay has a 28-0 record, including 22 knockouts.

Ernie Terrell went 15 rounds with Clay when the champion retained his title on a decision at Houston last Feb. 6. George Chuvalo also went the 15 round distance with Clay on March 29, 1966, and German Karl Mildenberger lasted 12 rounds until he was stopped on cuts last Sept. 10.

Clay, half serious and half joking, said Monday after his last workout that Folley might go 15 rounds.

"I'm not a knockout fighter — I can't punch," said Clay. "All I want to do is to box and dance, be artistic and show class. That way the advertisers can get a chance to show their commercials on television."

Then, in answer to questions, he said ominously (for Folley) that his condition, mental attitude and weight would be about the same as it was for his second fight with Sonny Liston.

He weighed 206 pounds on May 25, 1965 when he knocked out Liston in the first round with one controversial punch at Lewiston, Me.

Manager Says Zora Folley Is Ready

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Zora Folley's manager says the heavyweight challenger's greatest moment in the ring so far has been his knockout of Britain's Henry Cooper in 1961.

"Zora is ready now and in the same mental and physical condition for Cassius Clay as he was for Cooper," said Bill Swift, Folley's manager, today.

"Cooper had beaten Zora in 10 rounds in 1958," said Swift. "When they met again in December of 1961 in London, Zora weighed 195 pounds and was sharp as a razor. He knocked out Cooper in the second round. He was great that night. He can beat Clay."

Swift, Folley and trainer Johnny Hart are among the very few in town who believe the 34-year-old, No. 1 contender has a chance against the undefeated Clay at Madison Square Garden Wednesday night. Folley said he will weigh between 200 and 205.

Folley, a mild, stolid, modest man, almost has to be prodded to comment on the fight. He now says, "I will beat him by decision or knockout. I will be the next champion Wednesday night."

He says it as if making a memorized speech.

A pro 13 1/2 years and unbeaten in his last 12 fights, Folley has a 74-7-4 won-lost-draw record including 40 knockout victories. He has been stopped five times.

In boxing circles they whisper that "Folley blows the big ones. He doesn't have the heart. He'll freeze against Clay."

Newsmen put the delicate question to Folley. He didn't get upset.

"I've heard that talk," he said. "But I know I won't freeze. 'He's not a deadly puncher. He's not a Joe Louis. I've been in with some deadly punchers — Sonny Liston and Johnny Summerlin (both knocked Folley out) a few years back. They could really punch."

"But he's not a deadly puncher. I think I'm a deadlier puncher than he is. And I think I can punch just as fast as he does. Remember, I've scored 40 knockouts. I must be able to punch."

Clay has a 28-0 record, including 22 knockouts.

Ernie Terrell went 15 rounds with Clay when the champion retained his title on a decision at Houston last Feb. 6. George Chuvalo also went the 15 round distance with Clay on March 29, 1966, and German Karl Mildenberger lasted 12 rounds until he was stopped on cuts last Sept. 10.

Extension Horticulturist explains big problem in landscaping is that homeowners place plantings too close to foundations and too close together. Shrub size at maturity should be guide in placing for desirable landscape. The horticulturist listed various hollies and other shrub varieties recommended for building features to obtain desirable shrub height and texture.

The Horticulturist explains that shrubs such as Arborvitae, Spiney Greek Juniper, Irish Juniper, Burki Juniper, are not recommended in present landscape because of maintenance difficulty and insect problems. Although attractive at purchase they become overgrown and difficult to maintain.

The funnel system recommended was explained to mean funneling or directing the public attention to the home entrance. If corner plants at maturity are half way between ground and eye level and entrance plantings kept low, attention is given entrance.

Plants. Extension Horticulturist J. K. Ball confers with Mrs. Hamilton as recommendations are made and shrub placements are staked for a desired landscape.

Extension Horticulturist visits with class participants Mrs. Lex

Helms, Jr., Mrs. Sam Strong, Jr., Mrs. B. W. Edwards and Miss

Evelyn Briant about landscaping problems.

Landscaping Short Course begins this week in Hempstead County with good response indicating much interest in landscaping improvement and management.

Class sees type landscaping materials recommended, J. K. Ball, Extension Horticulturist, shows landscaping materials now being selected that require less maintenance and provide beauty year round.

The Horticulturist demonstrated placement to soften the architectural features of buildings.

Defends the Action of Legislature

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Rep. Doug Brandon of Little Rock said Monday Arkansas voters received the change in government they voted for in the November general elections.

Brandon said the legislature was more independent of the executive branch. He said it should not be criticized because of any opposition to Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller.

Brandon and Sen. Max Howell of Little Rock spoke at a Chamber of Commerce meeting which was attended by all but two members of the Pulaski County delegation in the General Assembly.

Brandon challenged critics who say the General Assembly is a "do nothing" legislature. He said, however, the legislature was handicapped because of the inexperience of new members and Rockefeller, and lack of strong floor leadership in the House.

Howell said he believed Rockefeller would admit that he had received more cooperation from the legislature than critics contend. He said under the circumstances Rockefeller "has certainly made an outstanding effort to put forth a program."

Howell said that the governor's program has been hard to get to because of a number of factors, including the record number of bills introduced.

Brandon also challenged the idea that Rockefeller had a legislative program prepared when he took office. He said Rockefeller had been campaigning hard and there was too little time to prepare a program before the legislature convened.

Brandon said the governor hired a battery of attorneys to help him, but in many cases the legislation they prepared was poorly drawn and some administration bills were defeated because of this.

Reagan May Be More Than Favorite Son

WASHINGTON (AP) — The suspicion is dawning on some moderate Republicans that conservative Gov. Ronald Reagan of California may be more than a favorite son candidate for the 1968 GOP presidential nomination.

Latest to acknowledge this is the Ripon Society, a mostly privately financed organization of young Republicans who class themselves as liberals.

The Ripon group says in its current "Forum" publication that "signs of a serious presidential bid by California Gov. Ronald Reagan are multiplying quickly." It said he may become the favorite son of several Western states, in addition to entering presidential primaries.

Suggesting that Reagan might inherit Southern support if former Vice President Richard M. Nixon fails to make the nomination grade, the "Forum" added: "It is not unthinkable that a convention with more Southern delegates than the one which nominated Barry Goldwater would give its endorsement to the even more charismatic Reagan."

Reagan has said he will be a favorite son candidate in California but won't campaign outside the state. He will not, however, ask for removal of his name in states where there are free-for-all primaries, he has said.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower said when he met Reagan in Palm Springs, Calif., recently that the California governor is qualified for the nation's top job.

"There are a number of men who would make fine presidents in our party," Eisenhower said. "Gov. Reagan is one of the men I admire most in the world."

Eisenhower went on to say that he and Reagan had discussed Vietnam. The governor has called for an all-out military effort.

Eisenhower's comment was: "I believe in winning wars or settling them as soon as we can on an honorable basis."

Nixon and Gov. George Romney of Michigan have national campaign organizations being formed for them. They have appeared with Reagan in Washington several times recently.

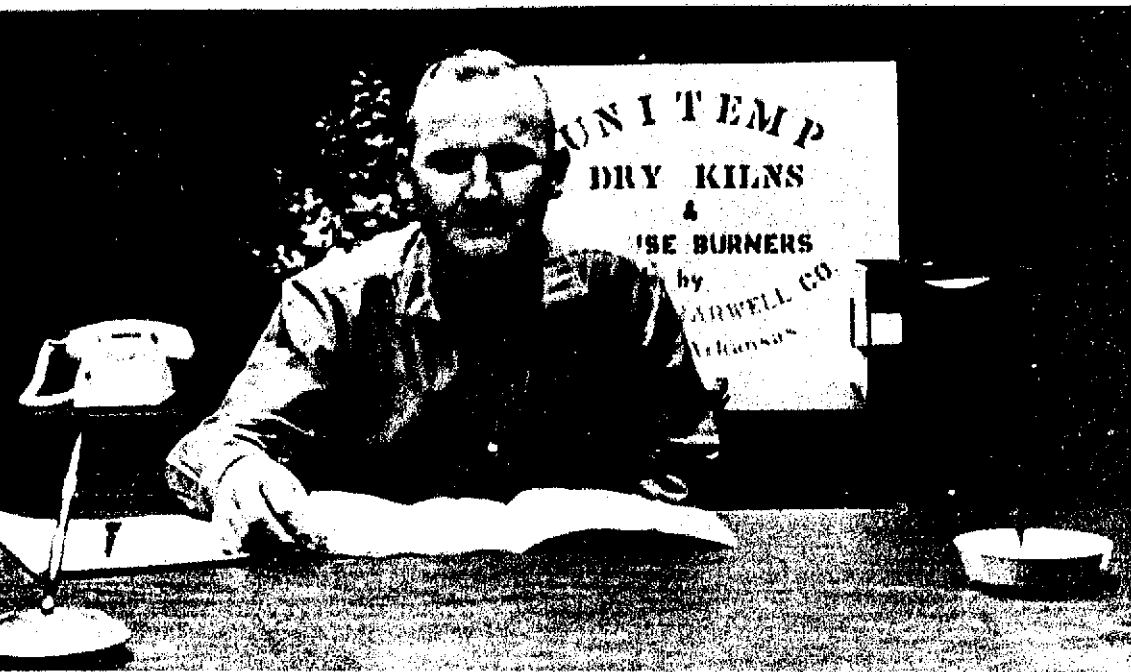

Reagan outshone Romney when both spoke at a Republican fund-raising dinner. But as the GOP speaker at the annual Gridiron Club dinner the California governor got only a passing grade.

Gilbert Brown, local boy, who is a recent graduate from the University of Arkansas School of Engineering, has joined the Morris E. Harwell Co. He is shown with a partner of the firm, Harold Young.

The Taylor Grain Company, housed in a part of the Morris E. Harwell building on North Hazel Street, is owned by Benton Taylor and they are dealers and distributors of feed, seed and farm supplies.

The Morris E. Harwell Company is a comparatively new industry operating in Hope, having acquired the Christopher Unitemp Dry Kiln facilities formerly operated by the late James W. Smith.

The new company is owned and operated by Morris E. Harwell and Harold Young and the location of their business is in the former Temple Cotton Oil Company building which they acquired in 1965.

Since acquiring this property their new owners have made extensive repairs and have added to the building in order to make it fit their needs and the needs of two other tenants, the Pilgrim Feed Company of Pittsburg, Texas and the Taylor Grain Company of Sparkman, Arkansas.

General offices for the Morris E. Harwell Company is housed in a very attractive new building on a site adjacent to the other building which they own on North Hazel Street. The Company employs about 8 persons including Gilbert Brown, a local boy who is a recent graduate of the School of Engineering at the University of Arkansas.

In addition to the dry kiln equipment the Harwell Company manufactures and installs refuse burners for saw mills, and they are distributors for saw mill machinery, fork lift trucks, debarkers, chippers, edgers, log turners and other equipment related to the saw mill business.

The Company has recently built and installed dry kilns at mills in Hope, Nashville, Glenwood, Norman, Mt. Ida, and Clarksville in Arkansas; Castleberry, Abbeville, Lafayette, Natusulga, in Alabama; Baton Rouge, Winfield, Olla and many in Louisiana; Hazellhurst, Mississippi and Richmond, West Virginia.

They have also recently designed, built and installed a waste burner for Mountaire Hatchery at Nashville and Mr. Harwell stated that the outlook for this product is very good.

"We have received excellent cooperation from other local businesses in the matter of fabrication of equipment and purchasing of supplies needed in our business," said Mr. Harwell, "and although we plan to grow to the point where we will be doing more of our own fabricating we expect to continue to purchase much of our material from local sources."

Marine Corps on List of Red Targets

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Marine Corps command post at Dong Ha — just 10 miles south of demilitarized zone — is on the list of primary Communist shelling targets, prisoners have told U.S. intelligence experts.

The captured Communist soldiers said the order has been issued to use mortars and Soviet-built rockets against the camp, U.S. military sources disclosed.

The prisoners said the ordnance is available, most of it hidden within the demilitarized zone that separates the two Vietnams.

"They said this was part of the supplies that were moved south during the cease-fire for Tet — the lunar new year — when we stopped bombing North Vietnam supply routes," one source said.

From Feb. 27 to March 8, the Reds dumped 2,535 mortar and rocket rounds on Marine units south of the demilitarized zone, including 528 rounds on the long-range artillery installation at Camp Carroll.

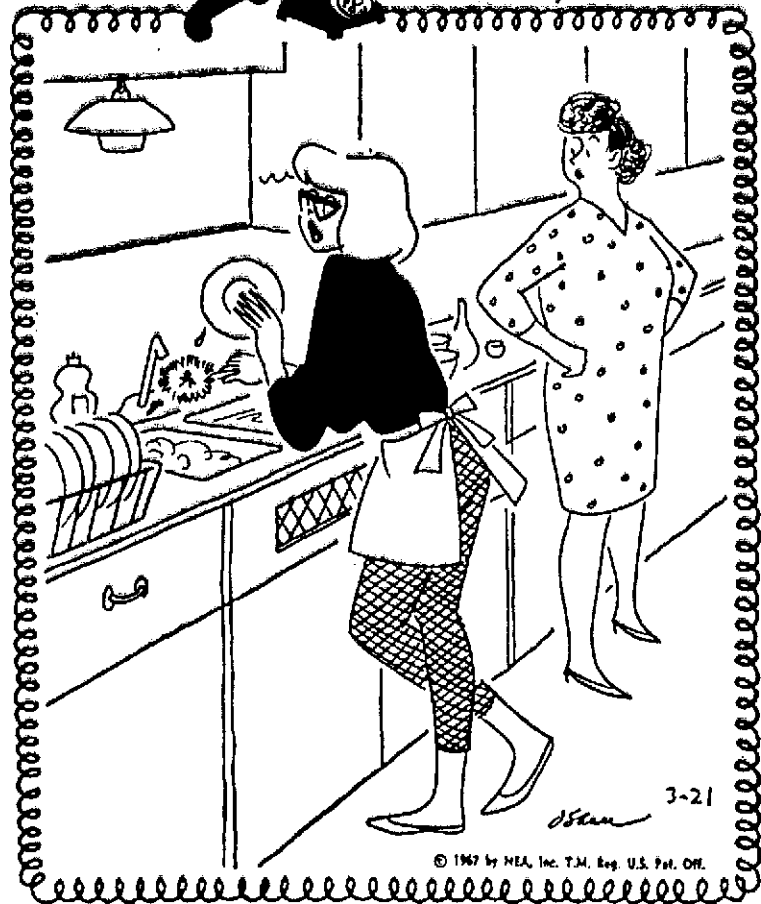

The Dong Ha installation is the northernmost headquarters post for American forces.

No-Trump Bid Not Wasted

By Oswald & James Jacoby
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Because the negative response to the artificial two club opening is two diamonds, the two club opening can also show certain strong no-trump hands. Specifically, if it is followed by two no-trump it shows a 23-24 point no-trump; if it is followed by a jump to three no-trump it shows a 25-26 point no-trump. Then the two no-trump opening shows 21-22 points and the three no-trump opening is reserved for whatever you want it to show.

North followed his negative two diamond response with a raise to three no-trump (3 plus 23 equals 26). South finessed the jack of spades unsuccessfully at trick two and West led the ten to set up his eight. South studied the hand carefully and decided to start proceedings by trying to set up a third club trick. He played ace-king and his partner would lead a heart in any event and it seemed silly to signal. Sure enough, East led the three of hearts. South refused the finesse. He could make nine tricks without two heart tricks. Then South cashed his ten of clubs. West had to make a second discard. He could not afford to let a diamond go and he also had to hang on to the king of hearts so he dropped his last spade. South played out his ace, queen and nine of diamonds. He stopped a moment before playing from dummy. It was possible that West was hanging onto two hearts in which case East would hold the jack of diamonds. But South did not think so. South proceeded to play dummy's ten and make his ninth trick with the king.

TOM TIEDE IN VIETNAM

By TOM TIEDE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

SAIGON, Vietnam—(NEA)—“The general’s running behind time.”

“I see.”

“He’ll be free in a moment. Have a seat.”

“Thank you.”

The visitor backs into a leatherette chair, tugs at an ear lobe, smooths a trouser leg. He surveys the room. It is cramped, colorless and filled with military uniforms.

A telephone rings. A blonde with WAC sergeant stripes answers. “General Westmoreland’s office,” she says professionally.

Two typewriters are in action and the noise of others filters from the hallway. A captain hastens a piece of paper out of a machine and bends over it with a pen. He seems in a hurry. Everyone does.

A short man walks briskly through the door carrying two large boards. He is a colonel. The boards are maps. They show, precisely, where and why 19 American soldiers were killed the previous day. The map carrier stops near two other exchange officers. They exchange a few whispered glances and talk in crisp tones.

One of the two is a major. He has a map designated “Road Incidents.” The other, an Air Force captain, holds a series of plastic slides headed, “Courses of Action.”

The visitor squints.

An officer notices. And the maps are shuffled out of sight.

Most eyes in the room are turned toward a door which is labeled: Briefing room. “He’s in there,” the major says softly. Who’s with him? Don’t know. When’ll he finish? Don’t know. Whisper. Nods.

Behind the door, William Westmoreland sits with somebody important. He has sat or stood with somebody important 16 hours of every day since taking over the Vietnam military command in 1964.

When he finishes behind the door, a dozen officers will want his attention. Plans, strategy, logistics, deployment. Questions. Answers.

It is 5:30 p.m. At six he is scheduled to hear the day’s combat wrap-up. At seven there is an operations meeting. At eight, a general from up country will call. At 8:30, a general from down country. At 9, an emergency decision, perhaps. At 10. At 11 . . .

Suddenly the door opens and a man steps into the room. It is, of course, Westmoreland.

“Sir . . .” somebody calls. “General, I . . .”

The man is dressed in neatly tailored tropical worsteds. On each collar are four silver stars. On the blouse are three silver badges, one each for combat, paratroop and glider plane qualifications.

He looks exactly 53, graying, well-proportioned. His eyes hide in dark sockets and seem to see all.

“This newsman has been waiting, sir.”

“Oh, yes,” the general says, “how do you do?”

Several officers try to catch the man’s eye. He listens briefly, whispers something into an aide’s ear and dismisses the others while, he explains, he keeps his appointment with the press.

The visitor smiles, nervously. “I can see you’re busy,” he says, and then adds feebly, “hope I’m not interrupting the war.”

Westmoreland smiles. “Of course not,” he says.

And as they sit down the general steals a hurried glance at his watch.

Westmoreland spends a lot of time in his office with very important people and not-so-important people, like reporters, but it is clear he would prefer to be with his troops. And his troops know it.

The other day he took one of his frequent strolls into the boonocks. The troops bolt to attention when the four stars walk near.

“Afternoon,” says the four stars.

“Sir.”

“Yessir.”

“How’s your mail?”

“Sir?”

“You getting mail all right?”

“Oh, yessir. Sure am, sir.”

The four stars nod, smile and walk on. The troops relax with exhaling breath. They eye one another quickly. Hey, is that . . . ? Naw! Sure it is. No kidding . . . ? It’s General Westmoreland!!!

The men eat it up. They like Westmoreland. Many’s the letter home that has carried a casual—but first-paragraph—notion, “Westy came out to see us today.”

The admiration is hardly wasted. On the contrary, it’s double-edged. With all of his elegance, William Westmoreland remains, as the soldiers

A MALE CARRIER of girls’ schoolbooks, Gary Clark finds it hard to keep the schoolboy tradition when you’re the only male enrolled in a school of nursing. over. Westmoreland is convinced that he has never seen a force of fighting men which he liked better or which surpassed the proficiency of the jungle GIs he now commands. “The men here,” he explains, “are equal to or better than the soldiers we’ve had in other wars. They seem more resourceful and more capable of taking the day’s events in their stride.”

“Oh, they gripe a lot. But it doesn’t run so deeply as the complaining in previous wars. And you seldom see the animosities and individual frictions which were common among troops in the past.”

He pauses.

“Yes, I have strong affection for them.”

This is not just four stars talking, either. Westmoreland’s opinion of his command’s capabilities is backed by statistics, not the least of which are the unprecedented low percentages of combat deaths, personal cowardice and disciplinary problems.

And he is particularly pleased that, contrary to other American conflicts where up to 40 per cent of frontline rifles never discharged, that problem is virtually nonexistent here.

Reasons, of course, are many. But at base troop proficiency stems from emotional stability and William Westmoreland is the author of perhaps the highest degree of troop morale in combat history.

It is he who insists on re-lention of the One Year Tour for noncareer personnel. It is he who insists on massive troop information programs which make the jungle GI the best-informed soldier in warfare memory.

It is he who takes “a personal interest” in everything from calories to cartridges and demands only the finest in any commodity.

He is, in sum, their champion and the troops know it.

And thus it is when the four stars come around, tasting the soup or rubbing a finger on the rifle dust, the word spreads quickly. Shoes are buffed, hair combed and shoulders straightened.

“How’s the mail, soldier?”

“Fine, sir.”

Westy’s out to see them again.

Carder Wins in AAU Cage Play

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Napoleon Cross scored 30 points Monday night and led Carder Buick of Searcy to a 99-90 victory over Mack’s Sport Shop of Stuttgart for the Arkansas AA state basketball championship.

Robert Allen added 26 points for the Searcy team, which won its second straight AAU title and its sixth in the last eight years.

Tom Davis paced Stuttgart with 29 points.

Cincinnati’s Adrian Smith took the free throw title, converting 90.3 per cent of his shots from the foul line.

Rockefeller Plans Bonds for Highways

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller indicated Monday that he may campaign for re-election in 1968 on a major highway bond proposal.

Rockefeller told a news conference that he was working toward such a proposal but that it was too early to say how large it would be or when it would be presented.

The governor said he would “insist” on an independent audit of the state Highway Department and also answer any questions related to a bond program before he offers it.

“I don’t think Arkansas can remain competitive ‘with other states’ if we don’t face the reality that we’ve got to use our credit from time to time,” he said.

Rockefeller and other Republicans fought against a proposed $60 million highway bond issue proposed by former Gov. Orval Faubus in 1965. The GOP said the proposal was ill-conceived. It was defeated.

Rockefeller said he worked with a consulting firm in 1965 and came up with a bond issue figure that was “amazingly high.” He did not, however, give any figures.

Asked how large a bond issue might be, he said, “Bigger than I want to say now.”

Rockefeller also announced payments to welfare recipients in nursing homes was being increased by administrative action by $20 a month.

On another subject, he reiterated that Oklahoma Gov. Dewey Bartlett had said a proposed Oklahoma turnpike within 20 miles of the Arkansas line had a low priority in the Oklahoma legislature.

NFO Chief, Family Threatened

CHICAGO (AP) — Oren Lee Staley’s wife and three children were whisked from their home to a secret location Monday night following a telephoned threat against Staley, president of the National Farmers Organization which is withholding milk in 25 states.

The six-day-old holding action aims at boosting by two cents a quart the price paid dairy farmers for milk.

“We’re very confident that the available supply of milk is being cut into very rapidly and that the industry is doing everything possible to shift things around. And their supply is getting very thin,” Staley said.

Police refused to say where they took Staley’s wife and three children, ages 10 through 15, but the family was returned to its Whitesville, Mo., home after midnight.

Staley said only that the call threatened the family “generally.” He said he was not worried because “I have a lot of local NFO neighbors and they will take care of the situation.” Staley spoke from NFO headquarters in Corning, Iowa.

Meanwhile, arrests and incidents of violence multiplied, millions of gallons of milk were spilled and tempers rubbed raw. But effects were hard to gauge.

Staley claimed a two-cent-a-quart retail milk price increase in Omaha was an NFO victory, though retailers argued it was merely a market correction after a price war.

Some areas confessed lack of success. “It’s not a heavy holding action,” said NFO official Reuben Anders in Bucks County, Pa. “We realize we aren’t going to dry up Doylestown or Philadelphia.” He estimated, though, that the action had reduced the county’s output by 10 per cent.

Our Daily Bread

Sliced Thin by The Editor
Alex H. Washburn'Sunday Afternoon
Down South'
Eastman Letter

Today's title is put in quotes because it used to be the name of a regional radio program the late Col. T. H. Barton promoted for Lion Oil Co. It also describes a very pleasant afternoon L. Carter Johnson and I spent last Sunday browsing around Hempstead county.

I was looking for a very young doe deer to put in my "back 40" along with the Mallards and Canada Geese. The office had received a telephone offer of a fawn — but it was a buck. We took off to look at it anyway.

On the way up Highway 4 we stopped at the Charles W. Key farm, on the south side of the municipal airport, and admired Mr. Key's three doe fawns. Last time I saw the youngest was during the past summer when she still had her baby spots. Now they're gone, of course — but all three still have the appeal of timid youngsters from the forest.

We drove on to the Bill Hamilton farm just south of Washington, from which our telephone offer had come, and saw the young buck in question. He was the property of Bill, Jr., about a year old, without horns, and still sweet-tempered. But I had to reckon with how he would be a year from now, and the threat he might pose to visitors to my miniature game preserve.

I reluctantly told the lady of the house I couldn't accept the buck — and Johnson nudged me and whispered: "You've got a friend in young Bill — he doesn't want to give up his pet!" So it was O. K. all the way around . . . except for the doubt that adults have over the behavior of a buck deer approaching maturity.

From the Hamilton place we went into Washington and took the Crossroads route to the Columbus road, and headed for Hope. Two miles short of the junction with Highway 4 we stopped for coffee at the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Jewell Ames.

The Ames have a new broiler house, and shortly we found ourselves in the middle of 12,000 6-weeks old poultry. The new broiler houses are the last word in professional construction, with metal trusses providing a post-free interior. Initially the gas-fed brooders are flat on the floor to warm the young chicks. But as they grow into feathered birds the brooders are hauled up against the ceiling and out of the way.

How much do broilers eat? Well, you don't become a 2-pound eating chicken for nothing. Mr. Ames told me his current feed order was for six tons — and it would last just four days! Johnson and I drove home reflecting that nowadays any business you took into is Big Business.

Ed Note: This is news — Eastman writing US about photography and printing! Actually there's no mystery. Mr. Monahan is probably working on a government contract bid and needs some extra samples in addition to the one he got when Berkey Technical Corp. sampled American newspapers and photo dealers with our Jan. 28 front page. An interesting sidelight is the fact that Garland Bosley, our Little Rock photo supplier, knows Mr. Monahan personally, from the days when Bosley lived in Baltimore and worked for Eastman Kodak himself. I enclosed a note about this with shipment.

Supreme Court Still Shows Tendency to Protect Criminals

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court is showing a renewed tendency to intervene in criminal law cases, but where this year's decisions will take the justices — and the law — is still very much in doubt.

Monday the pendulum swung a bit toward the side of policemen, who have complained bitterly in the last few years that the court was handcuffing them.

Police officers "need not invariably be required to disclose an informant's identity" so long as the trial judge is convinced the tipster is reliable, the court decided.

"Old reliable, the informer," was the derisive description pinned by dissenting Justice William O. Douglas on the tipster who has been a useful tool to police for centuries.

But Douglas was in the minority. By a 5-4 decision, written for the court by Justice Potter Stewart, police were given a freer hand to make arrests without obtaining search warrants.

Certainly police were cheered and it was a gloomy day for civil libertarians. However, the cheering and fingernail biting may be premature.

Just last week, the court agreed to review the power of police to stop people on the street they think look suspicious or other evidence of crime.

This means at least four of the nine justices thought a constitutional evaluation was in order. If five decide "stop and frisk" can't be squared with the Constitution, the pendulum will swing back.

Awaiting decision are several other significant cases in the field of criminal law, at least three ranking in importance with Monday's informer case. These concern putting suspects in lineups without the assistance of counsel, court-authorized electronic eavesdropping, and juvenile court procedures. In the criminal cases already decided this term the pendulum has swung in both directions.

On Feb. 13, the court served stern notice on prosecutors that convictions obtained "by the knowing use of false evidence" could not stand.

A week later, it shored up federal constitutional rights of defendants in state criminal trials. When these rights are violated, a 7-1 decision said, the burden will be on the states to prove "beyond a reasonable doubt" that the infringement "did not contribute to the verdict."

Then, on March 13, all nine justices agreed that a defendant in a state criminal case is entitled to a speedy trial — a right that defendants in federal prosecutions always have had.

However, on Feb. 20 the court upheld the right of California authorities to search an automobile for narcotics without getting a search warrant.

In January the court ruled that state prosecutors may tell jurors about a defendant's prior offenses before the jury passes on guilt or innocence. The practice applies in states where habitual offenders draw stiffer sentences.

On some occasions the court has simply sidestepped criminal law issues. Where the justices are heading may not be fully known until June.

Ky Puts Out
Peace Feeler
to Hanoi

TOKYO (AP) — President Johnson sent a message to President Ho Chi Minh of North Vietnam in the first week of February suggesting "direct talks" for peace in Vietnam, but Ho rejected the offer, the North Vietnamese Foreign Ministry announced today.

By GEORGE MCARTHUR SAIGON (AP) — Chief of state Nguyen Van Thieu, returning today from the Guam conference with President Johnson, said South Vietnam has invited North Vietnam to a peace meeting but Hanoi has not replied yet.

Thieu said the United States and South Vietnam agreed at the Guam conference on their "determination to search for a just and permanent peace," but he emphasized that while backing peacemaking efforts, South Vietnam insists on "proper guarantees."

Thieu told an airport news conference: "We have put out a proposal for Hanoi to discuss peace with us and if Hanoi is ready to discuss peace with us, we are ready to meet with them."

Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, who also attended the Guam meeting, said details of the peace feeler could not be disclosed since Hanoi has not responded. The proposal was relayed to Hanoi before the Guam conference "through channels open to us," he said.

In Guam, White House press secretary George Christian declined to comment on Thieu's announcement.

Ky and Thieu hailed the Guam meeting as a reaffirmation of the "spirit of cooperation" between the United States and South Vietnam. Thieu said both parties renewed their pledge "to make all efforts to insure that Hanoi cannot achieve a military victory in South Vietnam."

In a public statement while in Guam, Ky asked Johnson a series of questions which in effect called for an escalation of the war by attacks on Hanoi and on Communist communication lines through Cambodia and Laos.

He explained in Saigon he asked the questions to focus world attention on the continued Communist aggression and said he did not expect an immediate answer from Johnson.

Graham Film to Be Shown at Prescott

"The Restless Ones," considered the most successful motion picture yet by Evangelist Billy Graham, will be shown in Prescott, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, March 21, 22, and 23, at 4:00, 6:30, and 8:45 p.m., in the Nevada Theatre, each of these dates.

With the accent on youth, this feature-length film deals imaginatively and dramatically with the teenage crisis. With a background setting provided by the 1963 Billy Graham Los Angeles Crusade, and artfully woven into the story pattern, "The Restless Ones" is a hard-hitting, bold approach to social problems.

Here is a film that dares to be different, a story which will stir the heart and mind.

The showing of this film is sponsored by the Prescott Ministerial Alliance and any proceeds received will go to the Alliance but to The Billy Graham Crusade. Tickets are $1.

Russia Objects to Common Mkt.

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union has refused to lift its objection to Austrian association with the European Common Market, Austrian sources said today after Chancellor Josef Klaus had a final meeting with Premier Alexei N. Kosygin.

Klaus also had an unscheduled 30-minute meeting with Leonid I. Brezhnev, general secretary of the Soviet Communist party which runs this country.

Klaus goes home Tuesday after a week's visit, during which he has discussed Austria's desire to associate itself with the Common Market.

With No Immediate Prospect for Peace

By GEORGE MCARTHUR SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge returned tonight from the Guam conference with President Johnson and said he saw "absolutely" no immediate prospect for peace negotiations to settle the Vietnam war.

"All that talk is premature," Lodge told newsmen, "and it will also be that for a long time."

Asked about a new peace proposal which Nguyen Van Thieu, South Vietnamese chief of state, said had been made to Hanoi, Lodge said Thieu's announcement was not a new one and that a news story about it had been published in the Philippines several days ago.

To a newsmen's query if he saw immediate prospect of peace, Lodge replied: "Absolutely not."

Returning with Lodge from the Guam meeting were Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. commander in Vietnam, and Robert Komer, special presidential assistant who has been assigned to work on the pacification program here.

Lodge described the Guam conference as "very useful" and said it was "not the type of meeting that has a lot of big, bold, new proposals."

He said the outstanding event of the meeting came when Premier Nguyen Cao Ky presented President Johnson with a copy of South Vietnam's new constitution. Lodge said the presentation was "something no one expected" and "made quite a big impression."

Of the Guam conference itself, Lodge summed up by saying "I would say it was a useful stock taking."

Thieu said on his return from Guam that South Vietnam had invited the North Vietnamese to a peace meeting but that Hanoi has not replied.

Thieu said the United States and South Vietnam agreed at the Guam conference on their "determination to search for a just and permanent peace," but he emphasized that while backing peacemaking efforts, South Vietnam insists on "proper guarantees."

By GEORGE MCARTHUR SAIGON (AP) — American infantrymen mauled a Red regiment of some 2,500 men Tuesday in a furious battle that left at least 423 Communists dead in the tangled jungles near the Cambodian frontier.

U.S. headquarters said the remnants of the crack 272nd Viet Cong Regiment was fleeing toward Cambodia with a hail of air and artillery smashing down on their escape routes.

American losses in the bitter fight, which broke out Tuesday morning, were announced as 30 dead, 109 wounded and three missing.

The U.S. Command said latest reports from the battlefield had the men of the U.S. 4th Infantry Division's 3rd Brigade in hot pursuit of the Viet Cong regiment, which was putting up a scattered rearguard defense.

The 272nd Viet Cong Regiment is heavily laced with regular North Vietnamese soldiers.

It was the stiffest battle by far in the 200-square-mile area where U.S. soldiers are pressing home the biggest ground sweep of the war. The troops have stabbed deep into War Zone C in search of the top political and military headquarters from which the Communists have been directing the war in South Vietnam.

The battle took place north-east of Tay Ninh City in an area where the Cambodian frontier cuts eastward, offering the Reds an escape route only about 10 miles from the battle zone.

The U.S. Command in Saigon said the toll of more than 400 Communist dead was only an "interim report," indicating it will almost certainly go higher. In addition to the dead, six Communists were captured and 150 weapons were seized.

LBJ Doesn't Really Want
Tax Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John J. Williams said today President Johnson doesn't really want an income tax increase this year and instead plans to pump $9.3 billion into the economy before the 1968 election.

The Delaware Republican said of Johnson's proposal for a 6 per cent surtax on individual and corporate income taxes: "They don't really want this and they don't expect to get it."

Both Republicans and Democrats on the Senate Finance Committee sharply questioned administration motives Monday as Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler testified on proposals to restore tax breaks to business.

Williams, ranking GOP member of the committee, told Fowler that in seeking to restore tax incentives to business, "you are killing your chances" for the income tax surcharge.

Helping fuel the congressional battle over Johnson's economic moves were fresh government reports showing an increase in the cost of living and a slowdown in personal income advances.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics said Monday that living costs in February climbed one-tenth of one per cent. Decreases in food costs were offset by the higher price of medical care, housing, clothing and transportation.

Personal income gained $2.4 billion in February — the smallest advance since last April.

Claims Fuel Line
Is Blown Up

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — An Arab commando organization claimed today it blew up a fuel line supplying the Israeli nuclear reactor at Dimona during a raid last week in which commandos remained 80 hours undetected inside Israel.

A member of the "Heroes of Repatriation" organization, quoted by the newspaper Al Moharrer, denied the Israeli claim that two commandos were killed in the raid Thursday.
